DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/12/10 has been entered.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 2/12/10 was filed after the mailing date of the notice of allowance on 10/8/09. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 80 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 80 is drawn to functional descriptive material recorded on a computer-readable computer program product. Normally, the claim would be statutory. However, the specification, at page 81 lines 18-20 and page 82 lines 1-10 define or exemplify the claimed computer readable medium as encompassing statutory media such as a "ROM" as well as non-statutory subject matter such as a "signal".

"A transitory, propagating signal ... is not a "process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter." Those four categories define the explicit scope and reach of subject matter patentable under 35 U.S.C. § 101; thus, such a signal cannot be patentable subject matter." (In re Nuijten, 84 USPQ2d 1495 (Fed. Cir. 2007)).

Because the full scope of the claim as properly read in light of the disclosure appears to encompass non-statutory subject matter (i.e., because the specification defines/exemplifies a computer readable medium as a non-statutory signal, carrier waver, etc.) the claim as a whole is non-statutory. The examiner suggests amending the claim to include the disclosed tangible computer readable storage media, while at the same time excluding the intangible transitory media such as signals, carrier waves, etc. Any amendment to the claim should be commensurate with its corresponding disclosure. The examiner suggests using the term non-transitory computer readable recording medium.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 5, 8-12, 83 and 85-87 are allowed.
